

Review, Blog, and Community Policy

By submitting a review, community entry or blog comment, you represent that the review is your own work, that it is original, and that it is unencumbered by any existing or anticipated contractual relationship; further, you are granting us permission to publish your review on our website, emails and in other marketing communications.

By uploading an image, or sending one to us for uploading, you are confirming that you have permission to use it and also the permission of any persons included in the image and with reference to children, the permission of their parents or guardians.

If you do not wish for your name to be published please use a pseudonym when submitting your review / blog comment.

We reserve the right to remove or refuse to post any customer review or comment that we consider inappropriate. Submission of a review is not a guarantee of it being published. We also reserve the right to edit submissions if, after an investigation, we believe there are incorrect statements based on our understanding and knowledge of the products / services.

We want your comments to be heard - so to save you time and effort, please note that we cannot post single-word reviews; remarks directed at other reviewers; content not specific to the item being reviewed; remarks that repeat criminal accusations; reviews that are not your own original work or have been previously published elsewhere; content which might be considered defamatory, blasphemous or racist; profane or spiteful remarks; sexually explicit or sexually gratuitous comments; reviews submitted by, or on behalf of, companies or Web sites; advertisements or promotional material for other Web sites; phone numbers, postal addresses or URLs; availability, price or alternative ordering or delivery information; personal or critical remarks focusing solely on BoilerJuice.
